

Component Distributors, Inc. (CDI) recently established a presence in Mira Mesa after creating a satellite office in La Jolla in 1996. EDC conducted preliminary site searches to provide an overview of vacancies and vacancy rates throughout the region. When timing was appropriate, EDC facilitated an introduction to a representative at CB Richard Ellis. They then toured CDI through numerous facilities in Mira Mesa, Sorrento Mesa and Kearny Mesa. CDI took particular interest to one facility on Morehouse Drive in Mira Mesa. EDC also introduced CDI to San Diego Office Interiors, as they required additional furnishings for their new office space. CDI's scheduled move-in is set for late June.

CDI, established in 1970, is an electronics distributor focusing on RF, wireless, power conversion, sensors and many others. CDI services applications in multiple areas of the hi-tech electronic industry and works closely with engineering departments to ensure they receive products quickly and the application engineering assistance necessary when developing new products. CDI focuses on supplying products from vendors that are technologically advanced in their field.

An employee-owned operation, CDI has offices across the U.S. and partners with a number of local entities such as Remec, L3, Varian, Amistar and many more.